The first term begins in early June and students graduate 3 years later in late April. The first two years are comprised of both classroom didactic instruction as well as part-time clinical fieldwork throughout. In addition, a 6-week full-time clinical affiliation occurs at the beginning of the second year (Summer Term). The curriculum concludes with a one-year full time clinical internship that offers a monthly student scholarship payment.