Restrooms for visitors with physical disabilities are located on the third level, accessible via two elevators.

About the Cathedral Commons Room

Fifty-two feet (four stories) high and covering almost a half-acre, the Cathedral of Learning's Commons Room is a piece of true Gothic architecture; no steel supports were used in the construction of its arches. For more information, visit the website:

Directions to Commons Room

Exit Soldiers and Sailors through the Fifth Avenue main doors. Walk down to Fifth Avenue and turn left, and proceed to the light. Cross over Fifth Avenue and walk towards the Cathedral of Learning.

The accessible entrance for anyone in a wheelchair is around the back of the Cathedral.

Signs will be posted, and staff will be on hand to direct guests to entrances.
